analyzing sociocultural issues, especially current social issues in the San Francisco and Silicon Valley area. Extracurricular activities, including volunteering with local organizations and visiting Silicon Valley companies, add a rich experiential element to the students' learning.

For over 40 years, the ALC program has brought East Asian students together to improve their English skills, experience the American university lifestyle, and build life-long international friendships.

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

The American Language & Culture (ALC) Program in Silicon Valley combines academic English classes with activities aimed at exploring contemporary American culture. The English classes, offered by the Stanford Language Center, are designed to improve students' oral communication in English and guide students in

Experience the innovation of Silicon Valley

“The ALC program opened the door to a summer school with diverse students and opportunities for thorough English practice and social communication. ALC was exactly the kind of program I was longing for. And in fact, it turned out to be one of the best decisions I have ever made... Through the program I experienced that close human connections is what can make things different.”

- Heng (Denise) Tang, ALC participant
